WINE, A DREAM, AND THE COSMOS

The galaxy hides thousands of years of evolution; it is a world that is both intriguing and fascinating. Jorge Maciel, winemaker at Cava Maciel, had a revelation after a trip to Italy in 1993 that completely changed his life. Upon returning to his hometown of Ensenada, he discovered his passion and tasted happiness firsthand. He set out to dive into the world of wine, to experiment, and to create his own style.

It was in the year 2000 that Jorge began making wine in his parents' garage, guided by the experience of Enrique Ferro, who gladly shared his knowledge of winemaking. This is how Cava Maciel was born—out of personal taste, out of sharing with friends, and now with our visitors at the winery located in the San Antonio de las Minas area, in Valle de Guadalupe.

Dreams become reality when the universe aligns with the present—allowing us to enjoy the here and now.
